

2023-2024 Florida Science Instructional Materials

Review Instructions for the eBook represented by National Geographic Learning, a part of Cengage

Step 1: Select a Student eBook by clicking View Material for the course you wish to review.

The screenshot shows the 'Florida Science Adoption Review' website. At the top, there is a banner with a sunset over water and birds, with the text 'Florida' and '9-12 SCIENCE'. Below the banner is the title 'Florida Science Adoption Review' and a navigation menu with categories like 'Biology', 'World of Chemistry', 'Environmental Science: Sustaining Your World', 'Earth and Space Science', 'Foundations of Astronomy', 'Oceanography: An Invitation to Marine Science', 'Forensic Science: Fundamentals & Investigations', and 'Body Structures and Functions – Anatomy & Physiology'. The 'Biology' category is selected. Below the navigation menu, there are two eBook listings for 'National Geographic Biology, Florida Edition'. The left listing is for the 'Student Edition' (ISBN: 9798214068275) and the right listing is for the 'Teacher Edition' (ISBN: 9798214068299). Both listings have a 'View Materials' button. A red arrow points to the 'View Materials' button for the Student Edition.

Step 2: Click eBook Access in the pop-up menu to open the eBook.

The screenshot shows a pop-up menu for the 'Biology' eBook. The menu is titled 'Biology' and lists several options: 'Digital Walkthrough', 'Program Video Presentation – Coming Soon', 'Florida Reviewer's Guide – Coming Soon', 'eBook Access', 'Correlations', 'Access Point Correlations', 'Publisher's Questionnaire', and 'Universal Design Learning Questionnaire'. A red arrow points to the 'eBook Access' option. The password 'FloridaPrograms' is displayed below the 'eBook Access' option.

Step 3: The password is FloridaPrograms. Check I'm not a robot and then click Get Started.
